COUNTY ASSESSOR STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY AT HIS HOME.

Death Came Suddenly and Unexpectedly-Had Just Returned From a Six Days' Trip to Denver-Son May Succeed Him.

County Assessor Charles J. Bower died of apoplexy at 9:20 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, 2511 East Thirty-fifth street Death came without warning. When Mr Bower retired Tuesday night he was well He slept quietly all night. Just as he was rising from bed at 6 o'clock the stroke of paralysis came. He at once became unconscious and was seized with violent convulsions, from which he died three hours later. Dr. C. Lester Hall, Dr. H. O. Hana-walt and Dr. C. H. Lester arrived before Mr. Bower died, but saw at once that there was no hope for him.

Mr. Bower had just returned Tuesday evening from a trip to Denver, Col. His daughters and some friends had gone there two weeks ago for a short vacation and he and his youngest son, Ward, joined them a week ago. When the girls got ready to start home, Monday, Mr. Bower went to the depot to take the train to the Midland mining camp, intending not to return to Kansas City until Saturday. He was just a few minutes too late for his train, and, finding he would have to wait until the next day, decided at the last minute to come home with his children. If he had reached the Union depot in Denver a few minutes earlier, death would have overtaken him far from his home and family.

The family sat up late Tuesday nigh talking of the trip to the mountains. Mr. Bower took part in the conversation and was as well and as cheerful, to all appear-

When he awoke at 6 a. m. he called to his son, Morrison, to come and help him dress The son noticed that his father's voice sounded thick and peculiar.

He was just starting to his father from and adjoining room when Mrs. Bower called him to come quickly. Mr. Bower, who was sitting on the side of the bed, had put his hand up to his head and was groan ing. Mrs. Bower asked him what was the matter, but was answered only by an inarticulate groan. The stricken man was placed upon the bed by Mrs. Bower and her son, and the convulsions continued to increase in intensity until death came. It was Mr. Bower's third stroke of paralysis.
The second came five years ago, and left the right arm and leg martly crimpled. Mr.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Chaplin, 78 and 80 years old, are members of the house-hold.

For twenty-nine years, or ever since his marriage, Mr. Bower had lived at the homestead at 35H East Thirty-fifth street. He had ten acres of ground there. The house, a neat, homelike frame, sits some distance back from the road in the midst of great elm and maple trees. Mr. Bower came to Kansas City from Kentucky thirty-one years ago. He was 56 years old and was born at Chillicothe, O. At the age of 12 he went with his parents to Kentucky. He was 18 years old when he enlisted in the Fourth Kentucky cavalry under Morgan, the "Raider" of the Confederacy. After the war, Mr. Bower attended a law school at Cincinnati, O., and on graduation came to Kansas City, where he has lived ever since.

Before Mr. Bower was stricken with paralysis he had what was considered a fairly good law practice. He and Robert Quarles were partners for a while. His first entrance into politics was as a deputy steriff under John P. O'Neill. He served in 1897 and a part of 1896 as the deputy at county court sessions. Two years ago last November he was elected county assessor for four years. The vacancy created by his death will be filled by appointment by in 1857 and a part of 1856 as the deputy at county court sessions. Two years ago last November he was elected county assessor for four years. The vacancy created by his death will be filled by appointment by the governor. Frank Bower, who really managed the office for his father and thoroughly understands its duties, will probably be appointed. Everyone about the court house expressed that opinion yesterday. Mr. Bower had planned to be a candidate to succeed himself for another term. The state law forbade this, but Mr. Bower got the legislature to amend the law so as to permit of two terms.

The funeral will be held at the Central Presbyterian church Friday at 2 p. m. Dr. S. M. Neel will conduct the services. Burial will be at Forest Hill cemetery. Mr. Bower was a Mason and a member of the ex-Confederates. They will probably attend the funeral and take charge of it.

Notwithstanding the fact that Charles J. Bower, assessor of Jackson county, had been dead only a few hours, politicians have already commenced laying lines for an appointee to succeed him. Joseph Shannon was in close consultation with lesser political lights at the county seat. It is claimed that Andy Gallagher, one of the Shannonites recently appointed as one of the assessing board, is a favorite with Shannon, although popular sympathy in this city runs with Frank Bowers, whom many believe, under the circumstances, should finish out the unexpired term of his father. Joseph Shannon was in close consultation with the Shannon, wing of his party for over an hour, and arrangements, it is said, were laid for a delegation made up of Kansas City and Independence men, who were Shannonites, to go to Jefferson City at once and importune the governor to act at once, as the necessity of the occalion required.

The Shannonites in this city are fully ware of the fact that men must be chosen who have some weight with the governor. But that their plans would go aglee should anyone clese be sent on such an important mission. Governor Stephens is well informed as to Hood's Pills Sold by all druggists. 25 cents ing him posted. The Shannonites in this part of the county know that certain incidents have happened which already militated against them. It is said the governor has a veritable blacklist of politicians who have fought him, and another of those who have warmly supported his administration. T. C. Caldwell, at one time head deputy at the Independence office, it is said will make a close call for the appointment. Caldwell was decapitated by the Shannon wing of the Democracy, and stands well with the Stephens crowd.

All of the factions are alert in Eastern Jackson county, and each small village will have a representative of the invading army when it reaches Jefferson City. The fact that the governor has a blacklist is somewhat disconcerting to those who keep the run of matters political. Lively Session of the Police Board Yesterday at Which Mr. Chapin

When W. N. Cole purchased the license, fixtures and good will of the saloon at 534 Lydia avenue from Chapin & Hallowell he did not realize that he was investing in a gold brick. That realization came to him yesterday when he appeared before the police commissioners to get his license renewed.

a half dozen men, white and colored, who told some remarkable things about the way the place was conducted. One woman testified that it was the custom of some of Cole's patrons to inveigle little boys into crap games and win pennies from them, the games sometimes being carried on in the back yard and again right in front of the saloon

Another woman testified that for four months neither she nor her family had been able to get enough sleep owing to the constant fighting going on in and around the place. She also said the former proprietors had a playful habit of getting women who frequented the place drunk, then knocking them down and throwing them out of the "Those men are not human," she "They have bodily shapes and I suppose we will have to call them human but they are not." A colored man stated that a man had been knocked down and robbed in the saloon when Chapin & Hallowell ran it.

Chapin was present to help Cole get his license, and he chipped in at this juncture. "He's a liar, judge, an' I can prove it. I'll tell you just how it happened. A man run in my saloon with a knife in one hand and a couple of bricks in the other. He set the saloon on fire and tried to cut me, so I just knocked him in the head and trun him out. That's all I did."

Among the witnesses who testified against not only Cole but the former proprietor was a Mrs. Carney. She lives just across the street from the saloon and told how little children got beer in the place, and other violations of the law.

Chapin again saw an opportunity to help Cole, as he thought, and winked knowingly at the commissioners as he said:

"Say, I know her an' I know her husband. He's a fake doctor and he was arrested once and sent up for six muints."

The next instant a little man wearing spectacles had leaped over the railing that separates the commissioners from the audience and with the exclamation, "You're a liar," jumped at Chapin's throat. It was the maligned Carney.

A friend grabbed him around the waist sand held him until he cooled off a little but when he was released he demanded that Chapin be made to prove his assertion or fight.

"That's right, he's got to prove it," said Mayor Jones and the police court records and Sergeant Snow were sent for. There was no record of Carney having ever been arrested and he denied most positively that he was a doctor or of ever having attempted to doctor any one.

Another woman added to the testimony derogatory to the place and again the irrepressible Mr. Chapin got into hot water. He intimated she was trifling with the truth.

"What's that?" she exclaimed, pushing aside some people who were standing beloon when Chanin & Hallowell ran it Chapin was present to help Cole get his

All sorts of treatment was tried, from which I received little or no beneit. Doctors were employed and various kinds of medicines used. Except to give temporary relief, there was no appreciable change in my condition. At last I was induced to try a bottle of Pe-ru-na, and, after using two bottles of this medicine, I found myself more improved than from all the other treatment I ever received."

Miss Jennie Hawley, a well known contraito singer, says: "I regard Pe-ru-na as invaluable to singers and actresses."

Central C. and C. Co. Holds a Meeting The seventh annual meeting of the Central Coal and Coke Company occurred yesterday in the company's offices in the Keith & Perry building. There was no change of importance in the personnel of officers. The former aggressive policy of the company will be continued. The report of the preceding year's business was perfectly satisfactory to the stockholders.

CITY NEWS IN PARAGRAPHS.

An ice cream social will be given by the Sunday school of the Sixth and Prospec Christian church this evening at the resi-dence of Mr. Robert S. Stone, Eighth and Prospect avenue. Another meeting of the members of Company D. Third regiment, was held last night at the residence of Sergeant Schnebley, Twelfth street and Euclid avenue, and the plan of a reorganization of the company further discussed. The attendance was larger than at the former meeting, and there is a good possibility now that the plans will be carried out.

The bonds bought by Kansas City could not be delivered yesterday on account of the absence from the city of Hans Lund, city comptroller. Each purchaser will pay $208,885, and about $500 interest from July 1. At the next meeting of the board on August 3, bids will be called for on an addition to the Switzer school, and the east wing of the normal training school. All of these improvements the board hopes to have completed by the opening of the school year. vear.

HE'S BECOMING POPULAR.

Rev. Mr. B. Q. Denham Called to the Pulpit of a Big Church in New York City.

According to a letter recently received in Kansas City, Kas., Rev. Mr. B. Q. Denham, formerly pastor of the Central Christian church, of this city, has been called to the pastorate of the Fifty-sixth Street to the pastorate of the Fifty-sixth Street Christian church, of New York city. This is one of the largest Christian churches in the nation's metropolis, and the friends of the young minister here will doubtless be elated to hear of his success since going East.

Rev. Mr. Denham made many friends while in this city and greatly increased the congregation of the Central church. However, a contention arose among the members of his flock which resulted in the pastor resigning and consequently a division in the church. He left this city to accept the pulpit of the leading Christian church at Tonawanda, N. Y. He was on a lecture platform for some time, making quite a success as a lecturer.
